ATIA Individual Membership

The Australian Travel Industry Association (ATIA) brings together and represents those who work in the business of creating and selling travel to consumers, and the many others that support the industry ecosystem.

Our members are agents and advisors, reservations consultants, destination representatives, business development managers, product designers, marketers, PR specialists....and many more.
Membership of our Association offers industry connection and belonging, along with unique industry insights and discussion within a welcoming community of travel professionals.

Membership is your connection to your industry.
